

Greetings,

Miss Aga Gillyflower is pulchritudinous is she not? Do not fret she is quite safe in my care after her deranged mother abandoned her in the desert. It was fortuitous that my men found her when they did.

I hope you are enjoying you reunion with Mr. Sin, he has been instrumental in bringing about my evitable return to profit. He will bring you to me so that we can end our game to my satisfaction.

Despite everything I deem you to be worthy adversaries but there can only be one winner at the end and be assured that if you waver in your convictions then dear Miss Gillyflower will wish she had never been rescued.

"M"
