

War averted!

Thanks to the brave efforts of our resident heroes: Sir Boris Brassey, Sir Tarquin Boufounder and Sergeant Jean-Luc Pepper war between Britain and Germany has been averted. It has come to this papers attention that a treacherous plot by the late Colonel Sebastian Moran to have a doppelgänger of Sir Edward Baldwin Malek British ambassador to Germany assassinate the German Chancellor Otto von Bismarck at the peace summit here on Syrtis Major was foiled at the eleventh hour and Moran's base of operations subsequently seized by her majesty's armed forces. We interviewed Professor James Moriarty in Pentonville prison for whom Moran used to work; he said "Whilst I have seen the error of my ways and am currently seeking redemption for my heinous crimes Moran was too supercilious and cruel to attempt such a noble endeavour, my sincere and heartfelt thanks to those individuals who finally ended his reign of terror."

Heroes to be honoured!

It has just been announced by the Palace of St. James that Sir Boris Brassey, Sir Tarquin Boufounder and Sergeant Jean-Luc Pepper are to be awarded OBEs in the New Year's honours list. Sergeant Jean-Luc Pepper will also be made a knight Batchelor of the British Empire for his sterling services to Queen and country.

Yellow Peril ended!

Thanks to the sterling efforts of our stalwart police force here in Syrtis Major an insidious group of criminals masquerading as a laundry service have been apprehended and brought to swift justice at the end of the hangman's noose.

The vile group of Chinese thugs known as the Tong of the Black Scorpion were rounded up by the police led by inspector Craig and taken away to face swift and unequivocal British justice.

The circus is coming to town!

The famous and renowned Amazonia Martian circus is headed our way! Kiithank Gneesh the owner of the travelling spectacle said to expect acts of such grandeur and daring as to amaze those brave enough to attend. The circus is expected to stay in Syrtis Major for two weeks before heading out on the Meepsoor canal and heading south to not-doubt packed bookings. Tickets are 5s for adults and 2s for children.
